KINGSTON TO RACE TO-DAY. TO-DAY'S CARD AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY!

FIRENES IN THE CONEY ISLAND CUP-FINE PIELDS IN OTHER BACES.

The Ceney Island Jockey Club's card for to-day promises excellent racing by high-class horses. If it does not rain, the track will be extremely fast and very rapid time will be made. Firenzi will run in the Coney Island Cup, but Raceland will not meet her. If he started, he would have to carry 127 pounds to the 121 of Firenzi. Mr. Belmont and his trainer. James Rowe, prefer not to run Raceland against Firenzi except at the regular schedule of weights without any penalty upon Raceland. They are too proud and's achievements to run the risk of his defeat through carrying a penalty. While they look upon him as the champion racehorse of America at ant, they don't wish to take any liberties with so great horse as Firenzi.

for large was the field in the first race that it was divided. As Kingston has not won a race this year (not having started), he gets in with the light weight of 106, and the first race will be a gift to him at that weight, while Volunteer ought to run inda should win the second race, Defence second. In the Spring Stakes Druidess is likely to win easily, as no two year-old of high quality is announced as a probable starter against her. This is undoubtedly due to the prevalence of coughing at the trackgreat numbers of the best horses on the grounds having been affected in that way.

6The Thistle Stakes for three-year-olds will bring out a strong and attractive field at weights that should make certain a fine contest. Mr. Withers's colt Cynosure should win, with Mr. Belmont's filly She second. The weight (129 pounds) will be too much for Diablo if he starts, which is not likely.

Firensi should win the Coney Island Cup with Hanover second. She has to concede ten pounds to Hanover in this race by the schedule, and could not do it in a short race, but Hanover shows so much dislike to a long race now that the mare should ecced in giving him the weight and getting home comfortably.

Tristan eught to win the sixth race at the weights Tristan eught to win the sixth race at the weights and Frank ward may run second, as Ballston appears to have gone off a little, while Bessie June will havily enjoy handling 116 pounds.

Jural the great disappointment of Saturday, may win the high weight handleap on the greas and First way run second.

YOUNGSTERS THAT WILL RACE. ANOTHER LOOK AT THE RANCHO DEL PASO YEARLINGS.

Charles Reed, after looking critically over all the Rencho del Paso yearlings at Jerome Park on Sunday, went to the box occupied by No. 79, and placing his hand on the colt's withers, said: "This is the pick of The animal, an rich bay with a white strip in the face and two white feet, is by Warwick or Ban Fox out of Second Hand. The attendants with one accord insist that he is the image of Warwick, yet new acquaintances see in him a strong resemblance to Exile his half-brother.

"This fellow," said Mr. Mackey, the head and front of Mr. Haggin's great breeding farm, "had not been in a box six days in his life until he started East." The life of the Rancho del Paso yearlings is one of restless activity. After being weaned the colts and fillies are separated and placed in adjoining pastures, where they can get a straightaway run of at least a mile. Here they gambol the livelong day. When the sun goes down the signal to come home for the evening feed starts them all on a run for the stables. No such sight ever was seen on a racecourse as this everyday struggle of a hundred young thoroughbreds. Perfectly untrammelled they lay themselves down to the ground straining every nerve and muscle to get the lead and Only in Italy can anything approaching such s combat he found. There horses are raced without bridles, saddles or jockeys. No wonder the sons and daughters of Sir Modred, Darebin, Ban Fox, Hyder All, John Happy, Kyrle Daly and Milner are such perfect "Have you any King Thomases in the lot?" a Tribune reporter inquired of Jim, one of the head stable-

"Ise got fo' uv um, sah," he replied, "en one o' dem 's got ter fetch mo'n Thomas, of I hab ter fling de las' dollar at de auctioneer umself."

The four are the Warwick-Second Hand colt a'ready mentioned, the Sir Modred-Marian filly, the Ban Fox-Illusion colt and the Ban Fox-Queen colt. The Marian filly is a half sister of Emperor of Norfolk and The Cgar. No finer yearling nor one more fashionnot fetch as much, however, as either of the colts-The son of Ban Fox and Illusion is said to be very much like his sire. King Thomas was a handsome yearling, but the Ban Fox-Queen colt surpasses him in Anish and style.

August Belmont is reported to have said that the chestnut colt by St. Blaise out of Maud Hampton, the dam of King Fox, Ban Fox and King Thomas, will fetch a more sensational price than King Thomas, who was knocked down a year ago at the princely sum of $38,000, and privately sold an hour later to Schator Hearst, of California, for $40,000. It is more than likely that Mr. Belmont himself will go up into the tens of thousands for this youngster. He is extravagantly fond of St. Blaise, the son of the great Hermit and lord of the Nursery stud, and will not easily yield to any man in a competition for the son of the Derby winner and so grand a mare as Maud Hampton. As & rule, the brothers and sisters of great racehorses are disappointments, but in the sons of Maud Hampton a botable exception is found. The fact that this dam threw King Fox and Ban Fox to the cover of an imported horse will scarcely be overlooked by thought-borted horse will scarcely be overlocated by modelled buyers.

It is superfluous to state that the sale is in no sense of the word a draft or weeding-out, inasmuch as Mr. Haggin has catalogued every yearling he possesses that is sound and good enough to offer to a discriminating public. William Easton has been instructed to sell them to the highest bidder without limit or reservation of any kind whatsoever. Following is a list of the mares whose produce is found in the catalogue:

THE ENGLISH TURF SCANDAL

London, June 24 .- In connection with the turf scandal, Mr. Chaplin, in an interview to-day, said that he had received a telegram from the Ascot race course on Friday, signed by Henry James, stating that a compromise had been arranged between Lord Durham and Sir George Chetwynd. This statement was believed until Saturday, when Mr. James declared that the telegram was a forgery.

THE PAVONIA YACHT CLUB REGATTA. THIETY-SIX STARTERS OUT OF SEVENTY-ONE ENTRIES THE WINNERS.

The twentieth annual regatta of the Phyonia Yacht Club of Jersey City was sailed yesterday. Of the seventy-one entries, thirty-six crossed the line at the start, but although the wind and tide were favorable. some of the yachts in the larger classes did not succeed in finishing soon enough to be timed. The reason for this was that the course sailed was too ang for the little yachts. The courses were as fol-

The yachts started with a line northeast breeze

which caught them on the port beam and allowed them to begin the race with sheets cased off to star-hoard. As they went through the Narrows, however, the wind headed them, and made it a beat for the big ones to Buoy No. 812. Just in time, however, afterward, the wind shifted again to the southward and gave all the racers a free wind home. The iron steamboat Cygnus accompanied the yachts over the

THE BANK NOTE EXCURSION MYSTERY. Beyond the testimony of Charles Beardless, Philip Kalish and the latter's eight-year-old daughter, there is no evidence to prove that a boy was thrown overboard from the steamer which carried the employes of the American Bank Note Company on their excursion on Saturday. William Salley is still confined in the Tombs on a charge of having thrown a boy into the water, but no one yet appears to know who the victim was, and although the police have made diligent search, no body answering the description given by Kalish has been found in the river. Salley strongly denies having thrown any body into the water. At meeting of the officers of the Bank Note Company yes-terday the subject was brought up for discussion, but no further light was thrown upon the affair. Vice-President Robinson gave Salley an excellent reputa-tion.

COLUMBUS FORFEITS ONE GAME AND GAINS ANOTHER IN BROOKLYN.

The Brooklyn team won and lost a game at Washington Park, Brooklyn, yesterday, yet only one game was actually played. The 2,317 spectators say, however, that that one was about the liveliest contest, with wrangling accompaniments, seen in this neighborhood for some time. The Brooklyn and Columbus teams were to play, but when the time arrived for the game to start Umpire Goldsmith was absent. Assistant Umpire Paasch was told to take his place. When Paasch took his position the Columbus players took their places on the players' bench and refused to play, say ing that they had no faith in Passch's ability. long wrangle ensued, which ended only when Umpire Paasch declared the game forfeited to Brooklyn by the score of 9 to 0. It was then proposed to play off a game postponed from April 25, and after a great deal more wrangling the contest began. The Columbus men fairly gritted their teeth in their rage, and as a result played about the best game they have shown this year. They batted Lovett out of the pitcher's box in the fifth inning, and when Foutz went in to his curves were treated with ittle respect. McTamany forgot in the sixth inning and pitch little McTamany forgot himself Paasch called him out on strikes he drew back his bat as if to strike the umpire. Many people were silly enough to applaud McTamany for his action. The Columbus men scored two runs in the opening inning. In the next inning the home players scored three runs and took the lead. In the fifth they got two more and drew further ahead. But in the last half of that inning the Columbus men batted Lovett out of the box and scoring five runs took the lead. The runs were made on hits by Daily, Orr, O'Connor, Widner and Greenwood, a base on called balls and a wild pitch.

The Columbus men scored three more runs in the sixth inning and increased their lead. The Brooklyn players got one run in the seventh inning, making total score 10 to 7 in favor of Columbus. by Esterday and Widner, a base on balls and an error by Terry gave Columbus a run in the last half of the seventh inning. In the eighth inning an error by Terry and Greenwood's home run gave Columbus two more runs. In the ninth Brooklyn got one more run but the outraged feelings of the Columbus players had been avenged. They left the field smiling as if they had conquered the world. The CARELESS EXCAVATING WRECKS A DWELLING CONTAINING TWO FAMILIES.

One entire wall of the two-story brick house in the ear of No. 58 Willest-st. dropped into a hole a few minutes before 2 p. m. yesterlay. Most of the furniture belonging to Mrs. Brilget Sheridan, on the second floor of the house, also dropped into the hole. and Mrs. Sheridan was hurt. The trouble was caused by an excavation in the adjoining lot where Contractor Emerich is going to build a new house. His workmen before noon yesterday had undermined the wall of the little rear house. On the first floor lived Ignatz Friedman with his wife and six children. Mrs. Sheridan, who is a widow seventy-five years old, was at the top of the stairway leading to the yard when the wall fell. She tumbled down the stairs and was bruised severely. Mrs. Friedman was in her and was bruised severely. Mrs. Friedman was in her room with some of her children, but escaped without injury. Mrs. Sheridan was carried up to the third flour of the front house. Other neighbors helped Mrs. Friedman to move her furniture into the yaid. Contractor Emerich was arrested, but he was discharged at the Essex Market Court. The little rear house is so bally wrecked that it will have to be pulled down. REMOVED BY COMMISSIONER GILROY.

THE HEAD OF THE BUREAU OF INCUMBRANCES

REPLACED BY A TAMMANY WORKER. Chmissioner Gilrey, of the Department of Public Works, yesterday removed John Richardson, Superintendent of the Bureau of Incumbrances, and appointed Michael F. Cummings to succeed him. Mr. Gilroy asked for Mr. Elcharison's resignation several days ago, but the latter neglected to comply with the Comnissioner's request whereupon Mr. Gilroy removed him on charges of inefficiency and neglect of duty, and made a record of the fact, in accordance with the provisions of the Consolidation Act in such cases.

Mr. Richardson is advanced in years, and ill health has for some time prevented him from giving his personal attention regularly to the duties of his office, He has not been at his deak since early last week Some of Mr. Richardson's friends say that the Commissioner has made another mistake in removing him without a hearing, as he is a veteran of the war. Mr. Gilroy said yesterday that, in reply to a question which he had addressed to Mr. Richardson, the latter wrote him on May 13 that there were no veterans in his bureau. He certainly understood that Mr. Bichardson claimed no privileges under the Veteran Act. Mr. Richardson was appointed by General Newton, then commissioner, about four years ago.

The new superintendent is a Tammany General Committeeman from Mayor Grant's district, the XIXth, and is active in the organization. Ten years ago, when an Irving Hall man, he held a clerkship in the short and Richardson at second were the prettiest. Mr. Cummings was removed, but on appealing to the features of the game. PRESIDENT HOWELL CHOSEN.

RE-ELECTED BY THE BRIDGE TRUSTEES.

GEORGE HILLABRAND APPOINTED TO THE BOARD BY MAYOR GRANT.

Mayor Grant, with the concurrence of Controller Myers and President Arnold, of the Board of Aldermen, filled the last vacancy yesterday in the New-York membership of the Board of Trustees of the New-York and Brooklyn Bridge, by appointing George H.Habrand of No. 76 Warren-st., where he is engaged in the produce business. Mr. Hillabrand is a Tammany Democrat of the XVIIth Assembly District,

An air of surpressed excitement prevailed at the office of the Bridge Trustees yesterday afternoon, and there was considerable disquietude over the outcome of the adjourned annual meeting for the election of officers. The sweeping change in the eight appointed trustees from this city, only Isidor Wormser being retained, was the theme of discussion, and its bearing upon the future distribution of places on the Bridge was weighed.

Mayor Grant was early at the meeting, and with him, or soon afterward, appeared the new New-York trustees, E. C. Stanton, E. B. Skinner, G. W. McNulty, J. G. K. Lawrence, Mr. Hillabrand and Abram Schwab. Controller Myers and his brother, G. L. Myers, were the last to appear. Mayor Chapin made his initial appearance, although he has been a trustee ex-officio for a year and a half. The only trustee absent was General A. C. Barnes, who was out of the Secretary Beam called the meeting to order, and read the appointments of the new trustees. Then on motion of Quarantine Commissioner Anderson Mayor Grant was made temporary chairman. Con troller Myers offered a resolution, setting forth that President Howell had discharged his duties with such zeal and efficiency as to command public approval, and he should be unanimously re-elected. Mayor Grant said he agreed with this, and also wanted to move that the other elections be deferred until the new trustees had become acquainted with their duties.

Trustees Riley and Hillabrand were made tellers, and the ballot resulted in the unanimous election of Mr. Howell. A resolution was then adopted that the election of other officers be deferred to the July meeting, and that a committee be appointed by the president to make nominations. The committee was formed of Controller Myers and Trustees Lawrence, schwab, Anderson and Keeney, and the meeting adjourned.

This committee is composed of three New-York men and two Brooklyn men. although Brooklyn paid twothirds of the cost of the Bridge. The action of Mayor thirds of the cost of the Bidge. The action of Mayor Grant and Controller Myers in appointing so many new trustees, and in taking practical charge of the meeting yesterday, is understood to mean that Tammany desires to share in the Bridge patronage, which has been allotted to Brooklyn in the main heretofore. The saistred positions to be filled by the trustees include the places of chief engineer and superintendent, at #3,000; secretary, at #4,000; assistant engineer, at #4,000; consulting engineer, at #2,000; superintendent of tolls, at #2,000, About 250 men are employed on the Bridge.

THE COURTS. QUARRELLING OVER A DEAD PRIFST'S MONEY.

The Rev. Henry Fitzsimmons, a Catholic priest, who lived in Wilkesbarre, Penn., died there in June. 1874. Father Carew, who took letters of adminis tration on his estate, took possession of $3,000 which was supposed to be all the property that the dead man had. Last year Mrs. Annie Devlin, his niece, who had nursed him in his last illness, presented a bank book of the Manhattan Savings Bank at that institution, and drew $8,000 which had been deposited there by him, and which, she said, he had given her on his death bed. Mrs. Annie Farmer, who was appointed administratrix of the estate in this State, ascertained this fact, and learned also that Annie Devlin held Father Fitzsimmons's bank books, showing deposits in the Greenwich and the Emigrani showing deposits in the Greenwich and the Emigrant Industrial Savings Banks which she also claimed that he had given her.

The entire amount of the deposits in the three banks with interest was $18,000. Suits were brought by the administratrix for the recovery of the money, and yesterday the report of Referee Charles H. Daniels in the case was presented to Judge Van Hoesen in the Court of Common Pleas. The report holds that judgment should be given for the administratrix.

AN ARTIST SUES "BUFFALO BILL." A suit against Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) for $1,500 was argued before Referee Augustus Brown When the far-famed scout of the "Wild resterday. West" was in this city, he became acquainted with W. M. Cary, an artist, whom he ordered to paint a portrait of him, it is said, and when he saw the picture he refused to buy it, the price demanded being $1,500. Ex Governor Wise, of Virginia; Colonel W. H. Clarke and Sicele Mackaye testified yesterday that the picture was not worth $1,500. It is about five feet long by three feet high, and represents Colonel Cody on horseback, riding over the plains.

ABRAHAM COAKLEY AGAIN IN LUCK.

Abraham Coakley, the associate of many noted thieves, who has himself been arrested severalt times for complicity in grave offences, but has always escaped conviction, was successful again yesterday in convincing some of the jurors of his innocence. The jury which tried him failed to agree, eight of its men being in favor of conviction. Recorder Smyth, in discharging the jurors, said that they should have been

James W. Williams, known as "Nibsey," the thief who says that Coakley aided him in robbing Israel Herskowitz of $545 in a Grand-st. horse-car, was again called to the witness-chair. F. B. House, Coakier's lawyer, asked him: "You have testified to many terms of imprisonment which you have suffered in New-York and NewJersey. Were you not also in prison to A .- Yes, I served a term in the pentientiary there.

Q.-Have you not testified in this case because you ave been promised immunity? A .- No, sir; I wanted to do so. I asked to be alowed to testify. Q.-Because you thought Coakley had injured you?

Q.—Because you thought Coakley had injured your A.—Yes, sir. He has injured me. He betrayed me like a dog. I want my revenge on him."

Coakley's defence was an alibi. Assistant District-Attorney Jacome asked Coakley many questions about his associates. Coakley acknowledged that he knew "Johnny Dolets," Peter Ellis, known as "Banjo Pete": "Jimmy" Hope and many other noted thieves and burglars, but he denied any complicity in their crimes. The jurors spent two or three hours in deliberation before they were discharged.

FOUR DEPUTY COLLECTORS GONE.

THE RESIGNATIONS OF MESSES. GLADE, PETERS, GUTHERIE AND ROCKWELL AC

CEPTED BY COLONEL ERHARDT. All speculation and doubt at the Custom House as to what deputy-collecters were "on the list" for July 1 were at an end yesterday. As was intimated in The Tribune last week, the men were Morris J. Gladke, William Peters, Samuel Gutherie and Camden O. Rockwell. Their resignations were accepted yesterday, and it is generally expected that two new deputies will be appointed on July 1. Mr. Gladke was appointed through the influence, or perhaps so-licitation, of Governor Hill. He had been nervous over his place of late, but Mr. Gutherle and Mr. Peters were cheerful and resigned. These three have always been Democrats. Mr. Rockwell, however, was appointed eight years ago as a Republican. He is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Garffeld, the wife of President Garfield, and was appointed a deputy-collector through President Garfield's influence. At that time, it is said, the understanding was that eventually Mr.

Rockwell was to be appointed Pension Agent at St. Louis. President Garfield's death, however, prevented that plan from being carried out. After the Cleveland Administration came into power, it is said that Mr. Rockwell began to talk Free Trade, and that later he came out for Cleveland, and finally joined Tammany Hall and took part in Tammany's Fourth of July celebration. Mr. Rockwell denies the Tammany story, however, although admitting that he voted for Cleveland. It was reported yesterday. that Mrs. Garfield declined to intercede on the matter of his removal. The two names heard most frequently yesterday of Denis Shea, the Republican candidate for Coroner two years ago, and Charles A. Burr, of Binghamton, who has a strong support.

Collector Erhardt has been so overrun with office-seekers that he was obliged yesterday to post the in connection with the July appointments seekers that he was obliged yesterial to post the following notice:

"The Collector will have to ask the indulgence for two weeks of those seeking office. Official business will prevent his granting personal interviews until that time. Applications may be directed to W. S. Robbsson, and given to the messenger."

"This notice," said Colonel Erhardt emphatically, "means business," There were from ninety to 100 applicants in the Collector's office yesterday.

CONVICTED OF SWINDLING THE PREACHER. John B. Dean, who has been on trial before Judge Marrine on the charge of defrauding the Rev. George H. Chappell out of $900, was convicted yesterday of grand larceny in the first degree. The complaining witness, who told on Friday a remarkable story of having been cheated by "bunco steerers" under whose tuition he took part in a game of faro, was in court yesterday, but was not called again to the witness chair. Anthony Comstock, who arrested Dean, testified to finding him with his associates in the rooms at No. 132 West Thirty-third-st. in which the clergyat No. 132 West Thirty-third-st. In which the clergy-man had lest his money. J. F. Moss, the defendant's counsel, asked Judge Martine to advise the jury to acquit, on the ground that the clergyman, according to his own testimony, was engaged in a scheme to de-fraud "Colonel Mogan," one of the fare players, out of $10,000. Judge Martine refused to direct an acquittal, and the jury did not he-liate long before finding a verdict. Dean was remanded until Thurs-day for sentence.

RECORDER SMITH WAS TOO BUST. The case of Henry Coleman, one of the VIIIth As-sembly District politicians who are accused of bribery at the last election, was called for trial yesterday before Recorder Smyth. Assistant District-Attorney Dos Passos asked that an immediate trial be had. The Recorder said that he was then engaged in the trial of a long case, and that many prisoners were in the Tomba awaiting trial. He referred Mr. Dos Passos to another part of the court. Few ball cases will be tried before the September term, and the VIIIth District cases will probably go over to that time.
